

STUDY:

My Cross-Country Home Inspection Education Tour

Just The Facts

It may seem as though meritless claims and reckless clients are merely unavoidable - an unfortunate consequence of the industry. But this is only partly true. The other part of the equation is this: I have the experience and knowledge under my belt to crush claims before they ignite.

And if they do survive longer than inception, my aggressive and informed first-line-of-defense strategy has a proven 97% success rate over the course of 12 plus years.

This is why I am your most trusted legal advocate, and you would be protecting yourself and your business by having me on your side.

Example from the Field

Over the last 12 years, I've traveled to almost every state in our country. I've immensely enjoyed meeting new home inspectors and educating them on guaranteed ways to minimize risk, maximize business, and defend themselves against meritless claims.

I've met over 5,000 home inspectors who have attended my seminars from all over the United States and Canada. Providing valuable, business-impacting information to you and your peers has been my biggest accomplishment.

THE TAKEAWAY

I'm on a mission to protect and defend home inspectors everywhere. In fact, I've traveled to almost every state to educate home inspectors on how to maneuver the perils of the industry, and ensure a successful business.

Your Professional Advocate

My cross-country tour has just begun, and I have no intention of slowing down. I would love to meet you at my next stop, and learn about your individual practice.

If you are the education chairman of your local InterNACHI, NAHI, or ASHI chapter, and would like for me to speak at your convention, get in touch with me at contact@joeferry.com.

Let's discuss the challenges that you are facing and how we can conquer them. The unique perspective of each home inspector is what fuels my drive to keep my record of successful defense nearly perfect.

Visit my website, www.JoeFerry.com to learn more about my proven strategic response to unmeritorious claims and let me have your back and put an end to UNDERBUSSING.